

Valley View Retirement Community Update

April 9, 2020

I have the good fortune of sharing that we have received the COVID-19 results from yesterday's test. The results are negative! We are so grateful for these findings and share with the resident in this good news.

I wish to thank the COVID Response team who assembled and assisted this resident. This was a good test of our isolation measures, provision of care standards, and proper use of personal protective equipment (PPE).

I recently heard a physician state the following, "If properly using PPEs, it is considered normal contact and not an exposure with risk if caring for a COVID positive patient." I found this statement both grounding and affirming. Since early March, we have taken many steps to mitigate our risk and we remain committed to these preventative measures.

As previously shared, find reassurance in knowing you and others are doing all appropriate measures as outlined and directed by Department of Health, CMS, and the CDC. I certainly welcome any feedback you have and please contact me, Nan Yeater, NHA (ext. 2230) or Emily Wilson, DON (ext. 3270) with comments, questions, or concerns.

With much thankfulness,
